The University of Barcelona’s Faculty of Economics and Business is a leading centre in southern Europe for teaching economics, business, sociology and statistics. It was the first faculty to train economists in Catalonia, and combines the historical tradition of the UB with its strong commitment to modernity and internationalisation in recent years.

The UB is in the top 25 leading universities over 400 years old and is the only Spanish university among the 200 best universities in the world, in the most prominent international rankings. The Faculty makes an important contribution to maintaining this position.

This position was obtained because of the quality of the courses on offer and the quality of the research. The UB Business School and the UB School of Economics bring together research and international postgraduate studies in business and economics. The Faculty has 22 groups recognised as established research groups in their field by the Government of Catalonia, with hundreds of active researchers.

The Faculty offers a wide range of quality postgraduate courses for the academic year 2017-2018. These include both university master’s degrees and Executive Education (UB-specific master’s degrees and postgraduate courses). Situated on the Barcelona Knowledge Campus (BKC) at Pedralbes, a campus of international excellence, the Faculty of Economics and Business offers the opportunity to receive excellent training, provided by academics who are experts in their fields. A wide range of university services are available to students, such as the chance to undertake professional placements.

Elisenda Paluzie

Dean of the Faculty of Economics and Business
University of Barcelona
The University of Barcelona was founded in 1450 and is the most formidable public institution of higher education in Catalonia today, catering to the needs of the greatest number of students and delivering the broadest and most comprehensive range of courses. The UB is also the principal centre of university research in Spain and has become a European benchmark for research activity, both in terms of the number of research programmes it conducts and the excellence these have achieved.

The UB is the only Spanish university among the 200 best universities in the international rankings Academic Ranking of World Universities or the Shanghai Ranking, ranked between positions 151 and 200 in 2016, and QS World University Rankings, ranked 160 in 2017.

In the QS 2016 ranking, the University of Barcelona was placed 129th for social sciences and business management, the branch of knowledge in which the Faculty of Economics and Business is registered. With regard to specific disciplines, the UB is ranked 101-150 in the world for sociology; economics and econometrics, accounting and finance, statistics and operations research and between 151-200 for business and management. The QS ranking is based on three key indicators: academic reputation, employer reputation, and citations per faculty.

Internationalisation

The University of Barcelona is involved in various international university networks, including the Coimbra Group and the League of European Research Universities (LERU), in which the UB is the only Spanish institution.

The Faculty of Economics and Business has an extensive range of international mobility agreements with other institutions, under the Erasmus programme, through bilateral agreements, the CINDA programme and BCA (with universities in the United States), as well as the general UB exchange options.

The University of Barcelona’s Faculty of Economics and Business offers a wide range of professional and research-oriented university master’s degrees in the fields of economics, business, statistics, sociology and interdisciplinary studies. These programmes have a strong international dimension, and some are taught entirely in English.

The aim of official university master’s degrees is to introduce a compatible system of credits, criteria and methodology with a similar duration to that of European qualifications, in order to facilitate and promote the mobility of students, and their incorporation into the European job market.

The public fees for the courses are regulated by the Government of Catalonia, and adapted to the European Higher Education Area (EHEA). Tuition fees for university master’s degree correspond to the academic year 2016-2017. In addition, students must pay administrative fees with the enrollment. <th>€2,790 per academic year (60 credits)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Language of instruction:
- English
- Spanish

Coordinator:
- Joan Calzada Aymerich

Objective:
To train and prepare economists who wish to carry out independent research in one of the best cities in the world for study: Barcelona. The Master’s degree in Economics is particularly suitable for students who have just graduated and want to develop their analytical skills through a wide range of courses taught in English by our best researchers. As this is a two-year programme, students have the opportunity to learn very solid methodological principles, and specialise in the areas that are of most interest to them.

Career opportunities:
Students who complete the programme could enter a wide range of professional sectors, including higher education or economic consultancy. Graduates who are particularly interested in research could apply to the doctoral programme in Economics, and continue to do advanced research.

Mobility:
The degree offers students the chance to take up Erasmus mobility placements.

Coordinators: Joan Ramon Borrell Arqué

5,994 euros for students who do not currently reside in Spain and are not EU, Ireland, Norway, Liechtenstein, Switzerland or Andorra nationals.

Objectives:
To prepare students for professional work in the area of economics and law in relation to the provision of public services, which are also known in the European Union as services of general interest or universal services. In particular, the programme trains students to address problems related to the liberalisation of economic public services, leading to freedom of establishment and competition among service providers.

Career opportunities:
Students who complete the programme will be able to take on management and technical responsibilities in the following areas:
- Management of regulations, corporate strategy, institutional relations and general management of public and private operators who provide services of general interest;
- Directorates-generals and sectorial directorates for competition authorities.
- Supervisory and regulatory organisations, and Legal advisors for public and private operators, that promote and defend competition.

Objectives:
To provide advanced training in research skills, techniques and methods that will enable graduates to carry out studies to increase knowledge of companies and business competitiveness. Students will develop the general and specific skills required to undertake quality research tasks in public and private research centres and universities. The programme is aimed at students with an academic, professional and, above all, research interest in business.

Career opportunities:
Graduates will gain the competences and skills required to start a doctoral thesis, as the master’s degree is a training period that should be completed prior to the Doctoral programme in Business. Therefore, on completion of the master’s degree, many graduates would continue with an academic career. However, although the master’s degree does not have a professional focus, the knowledge gained by students enables them to apply for jobs with better conditions in the private sector.

Objectives:
To train specialists in global business management and covers the fields of finance and accounting, marketing, operations, human resources and strategic management. Globalisation of the economy is a tangible reality nowadays. Hence the need for companies to develop a strategy for internationalisation in order to safeguard their competitiveness in global environments. This programme contributes in a decisive way to a wider specialisation for graduates in International Business, Management and Business Administration, and such like, who have acquired a more generalized training during their studies.

Career opportunities:
Students who complete this Master’s degree in International Business will find employment in a wide array of positions within the private sector. The most usual jobs for students who complete the degree are posts of management, as well as specialised tasks in multinational companies, such as human resources, finances, foreign trade or international marketing. Furthermore, the MSc in International Business trains students to find employment in public organisations and NGOs dealing with international cooperation.

Objectives:
To provide advanced training in the creation of companies and the management of innovation, to train future entrepreneurs and managers of innovative companies to the highest level, and to train professionals who can manage innovation and have the tools required to start innovative business initiatives. Therefore, the aim is to provide competences and skills that enable students to manage projects and/or innovative processes, start business initiatives, begin new projects, and launch them on the market.

Career opportunities:
The competences gained on this master’s degree will help professionals from different fields to undertake entrepreneurial and innovative activities that are mainly associated with the application of new technologies. These are high value-added activities, and are vital to business development. Expectations for future growth in this area are high. These activities are potential sources of business opportunities and employment growth, which is one of the main problems in the Spanish economy at present.

Mobility:
The degree offers students the chance to take up Erasmus mobility placements.
Master’s degree in Marketing and Market Research

Objectives:
To provide professionals with solid, quantitative training in marketing and market research, to meet social and business needs. Students will learn theoretical and practical aspects of the methods and techniques of marketing management and the tools and techniques used in market research, which are essential to the development of businesses and other organisations in a highly competitive environment.

Career opportunities:
Management-level positions in marketing and market research in companies, consultancies, and freelance work in this field. The master’s degree will also improve the professional opportunities of graduates who already have management experience in these areas of knowledge, and want to increase or consolidate their training and technical skills in the field of marketing and market research.

Master’s degree in Financial and Actuarial Sciences

Objectives:
To provide professionals with solid, quantitative training in mathematics and statistics, supported by the University of Barcelona’s considerable experience in training actuaries. The UB is currently the only university in Catalonia to offer this kind of course. Actuarial studies are a fundamental requirement for joining the Catalan Association of Actuaries, and other Spanish professional associations.

Career opportunities:
Graduates in Financial and Actuarial Sciences will be experts in risk management and in uncertainty quantification. There is a high demand for these skills in banks, large companies with their own risk departments, insurance companies, brokerage firms, and other corporations that need professionals with the quantitative training required to assess risk and uncertainty. Due to their solid technical training, graduates will also be equipped to continue their studies at doctoral level.

Master’s degree in Accounting and Taxation

Objectives:
To provide the practical training required to become a specialist in the fields of accounting, taxation and auditing. The course will enable graduates to use sound knowledge to effectively manage tasks associated with these areas in companies of any kind and size.

Career opportunities:
In the public sector, the skills that graduates’ gain on the master’s degree will qualify them for management posts in any area of accountancy or taxation in public entities and companies. In the private sector, the analytical and planning skills developed during the course will enable graduates to undertake highly analytical tasks with a mid-term perspective in the areas of accountancy, taxation and auditing.

Independent work is one of the most promising areas for career development in these fields: the specialised training in accountancy and taxation will give graduates the skills required to solve problems in these areas in any organisation. Students who successfully complete this specialised master’s degree will be exempt from the first stage of access to the Official Register of Accounting Auditors (ROMC), which is the starting point for the auditing profession.

Career opportunities:
Graduates will be qualified to work in company management in the sports sector. Opportunities include: management of facilities for physical fitness and competition, technical management of federations or other entities that promote sports, and the management of companies that produce sports apparatus and equipment. Graduates could also work in the areas of sport events, club management, and the management of marketing programmes and other policies to promote products and services. Language of instruction

14,200 euros per academic year (60 credits) for students who are not EU nationals.

Objectives:

The programme aims to examine how local places (clusters, cities and regions) and local actors (entrepreneurs, firms and policymakers) generate local competitiveness under global market conditions. The “Global History & Creative Cities” pathway stresses economic orders, creative cities and industries, and the history of international relations and globalisation. On the other hand, the “Global Markets & Development” pathway focuses on global political economy, immigrant entrepreneurship, and global marketing and mass consumption.

Career opportunities:

The degree is ideal for highly talented students seeking a career in urban or public policy organisations, multinational corporations, international consultancies, cultural and creative industries, media or other non-profit organisations. Graduates will have high-level critical, analytical and practical skills, thus enhancing their employability in the global marketplace. The programme also includes the opportunity to acquire additional languages and key employability skills through work placements.
Master’s degree in Cultural Management

Objectives:
To train professionals who are highly qualified in cultural management, administration, mediation and research, who can hold positions of responsibility in the public and private arena in a range of cultural sectors, including audiovisual production, literature, dramatic arts, music, heritage services and the visual arts. The objective is also to help to develop theoretical and applied research in this field, and to collaborate to increase the professional level, efficiency and internationalisation of the sector.

Career opportunities:
The master’s degree in Cultural Management provides professional opportunities as managers, technical experts or administrators of services, facilities and cultural projects that are public, civic or corporate, planners and/or producers of cultural events (artistic, humanistic, festive, heritage, tourist and cultural), regional cultural managers, planners and promoters of intercultural dynamics and sociocultural activities, and researchers in cultural policy management.

Mobility:
The degree offers students the chance to take up Erasmus mobility placements.

---

Master’s degree in Public Management

Objectives:
To provide advanced, specialised training for graduates in all fields of the social sciences, and for graduates from any area of training who have a specific interest in public management. Students who successfully complete a master’s degree in Public Management in the established period of one academic year are guaranteed access to the Government of Catalonia’s pool of temporary staff. Students who wish to follow a research career could enter a doctoral programme.

Career opportunities:
Career opportunities for graduates are mainly in the public and semipublic areas: different levels and areas of public administrations, public companies, private companies that provide services for the public sector, non-governmental organisations, political institutions or parties, consultancies, research institutes, teaching institutes or units of analysis, among others.

Study in Barcelona

Barcelona is one of the most prosperous cities in Europe and a fantastic place to live, with a sunny climate and a cosmopolitan cultural life. It is also highly affordable, particularly when compared to cities such as London and Paris, offering an excellent quality of life and a diverse student mix.

The University of Barcelona offers students the chance to study and undertake research at an institution that is fully integrated into the city around it. Lying on the Mediterranean coast, and with a population of over 1.5 million, Barcelona is one of the most economically, socially and culturally important cities in Europe and is characterised by its extraordinary diversity. Graduates of the UB enjoy an excellent reputation among international employers. Barcelona ranks the 8th best city in Europe for students according to the QS 2017 ranking, which combines data on universities, student population, affordability, quality of life and reputation with employers.

General advice and accommodation support

Barcelona Centre Universitari (BCU) offers students admitted to courses at the UB a wide and varied range of accommodation options:

- Halls of residence, rooms in shared flats, home stays, rental apartments and more.

- A free information service is available to all students looking to rent an apartment in Barcelona.
