Open to new ideas. Since 1365. As a research university with high international visibility and a wide range of degree programmes, the University of Vienna is committed to basic research open to application and research-led teaching, as well as to career development of young researchers and to the dialogue with economy and society. That way, the University of Vienna contributes to the education of future generations and to the society’s ability to innovate.

The Diplomatic Academy of Vienna is a professional school that is dedicated to research and teaching excellence. Its research and teaching philosophy revolves around multidisciplinarity. It has a small resident faculty and attracts highly reputable adjunct faculty from all over the world. The small student body, too, is truly international. Two of the Academy’s four graduate programmes are offered jointly with the University of Vienna: the Master of Advanced International Studies and the Doctorate in Interdisciplinary International Studies.

The University of Vienna and the Diplomatic Academy of Vienna seek to appoint a

University Professor of European Studies

with a special focus on policies, institutions, and decision-making processes of the European Union (full-time, 5-year appointment).

The successful candidate is expected to represent the field of European Studies in its full breadth of theoretical and methodological approaches. The position is open with respect to candidates’ specialisation, and they may hold doctoral degrees in Economics, History, Law or Political Science. The language of instruction is English.

Successful candidates should have the following qualifications:

- Doctoral degree/PhD and post-doctoral experience at a university or other research institution
- Habilitation (venia docendi) or an internationally accepted equivalent qualification is desirable
- Outstanding achievements in research, excellent publication record and international reputation
- Experience in designing, procuring and managing research projects, as well as the willingness and ability to lead research groups
- Enthusiasm for excellent teaching, teaching experience at universities as well as the ability and willingness to teach students in all phases of their studies (bachelor’s, master’s, or doctoral level), to supervise academic theses and promote young academic colleagues

In addition, the University of Vienna and the Diplomatic Academy of Vienna expect the successful candidate to be prepared to take over organisational responsibilities when necessary.
We offer:

- a negotiable salary (classification according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff, allocation to job group A1; section 99 (1) of the Universities Act 2002); the salary will be individually negotiated under consideration of the previous career development and the current income situation
- in addition to the statutory social insurance, the University of Vienna offers a pension fund to its employees
- a dynamic research location with well-established research funding provisions
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life
- comprehensive advice and support in relation to finding an accommodation and change of schools
- a wide range of support services offered by central service institutions

The University and the Academy pursue a non-discriminatory employment policy and value equal opportunities, as well as diversity (http://diversity.univie.ac.at/en). The University and the Academy lay special emphasis on increasing the number of women in senior and in academic positions. Given equal qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.

Application documents:

- Application letter, including a brief description of current research interests and research plans for the immediate future, and current and planned foci in academic teaching as well as the supervision of young researchers.
- Academic curriculum vitae, including information about “esteem factors” (e.g. experiences as a publisher, functions in research societies or programme committees)
- List of publications, including:
  - specification of five key publications which the applicant considers particularly relevant to the advertised professorship
  - provision of an Internet link for download or electronic submission of PDF versions of these five publications
  - information about citations and impact factors, depending on the common practice in the relevant research area
- List of talks given, including information about invited keynote lectures at international conferences
- Third-party funds
  list of acquired third-party funds (subject, duration, origin, volume) as well as, if applicable, of inventions/patents
- Overview of previous academic teaching and supervised theses, especially doctoral theses
- Teaching evaluations
- The names of three referees whom we can contact
- Copies of documents and certificates

Applications written in English should be submitted by e-mail to berufungsservice@univie.ac.at.

Reference no.: UW/DA/17/1

The application deadline is 31 March 2017.