5. Underlining is not allowed.
6. Words and expressions that appear in a different language from the paper, must be written in italics.
7. Acronyms must be written without any dots (e.g.: LOPJ). The first time a seldom used abbreviation appears in an article, it must be written as a complete name, followed by the acronym in parentheses.
8. In the case of graphics and tables the source from which they are extracted must be mentioned.
9. The deadline for communicating to the authors the acceptance for publication will be two months from the reception of the paper. The Editorial Board, without the prejudice of its collegial decision, can use if considered appropriate, the anonymous evaluation of two experts (peer review). The Editorial Board expresses its wish that, in the future, all "working papers" can be evaluated by this method..
10. Working Papers must be directed electronically, in Microsoft Word, to TransJus Management, which has the following address: gestio.transjus@ub.edu
