

JEFFREY KING: Naturalized propositions and fineness of grain

In the present paper I, first, say some things about at least part of the recent dialectic that has gotten me to where I am in thinking about propositions. In doing this, I hope both to explain my own motivations for ending up where I am on the topic and to indicate what I take to be the most promising places to get off the boat if you don't want to end up somewhere near where I am. Second, I'll briefly sketch the account of propositions I defend in King, Soames, Speaks (2014). I hope to illuminate aspects of that view that may have been unclear or underdeveloped in the latter work. Third, I'll discuss what I take to be a major objection to my view and say some things about how to respond to it.
