

The “Máster en Estudios Internacionales” of the University of Barcelona (MEI-UB) is offering 2 merit-based scholarships of 20 percent off the tuition fee for Virtual Institute members wishing to enroll in the 2015-2016 edition of the Master’s programme.

The MEI is mainly delivered in Spanish. Therefore a demonstrated, very good knowledge of the Spanish language (oral and written) is a requirement for the scholarship and admission to the programme.

The Master of International Studies (MEI) has been taught continuously since 1989, and is aimed at postgraduate students who want to specialize in the study of the International Society from a multidisciplinary perspective. The program offers theoretical and practical training in order to provide the tools to understand the dynamics of international relations in its political, economic, historical and legal dimension.

Deadline for applications is May 30th.

Interested candidates should fill out the MEI admission form at <http://www.ub.edu/mei/en/solicitud-de-admision/> and send required documents for the admission process.

In the field of the form titled “Observaciones”, indicate “Virtual Institute scholarship”.

In the “Carta exposición de motivos por los cuales se desea realizar el Máster” please also explain your interest in the scholarship.

The selected candidates will be informed by June 30th.

For more information about the MEI, the study program, internship program in international organizations and other activities, visit www.ub.edu/mei

For more information, please contact mei@ub.edu