

INTERNSHIP AT UB ECONOMICS FACULTY OF ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS UNIVERSITY OF BARCELONA

UB Economics project, launched on 2012, is a platform that centralizes and coordinates research in economics at the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Barcelona (UB). Its mission is to build a reputation for internationally excellent research in major fields of economics.

UB Economics offers two postgraduate programs taught entirely in English: the university master's degree in Economics and the doctoral program in Economics.

UB Economics aims to create an environment through which the faculty can excel, attracting new researchers at both senior and junior levels. It provides technical support to researchers for funding applications, project management and the dissemination of results, and aims to promote the transmission of major findings outside the academic setting by increasing interaction with wider society.

Tasks and activities

- Master and PhD students' assistance.
- Providing content for the UB Economics website (news, activities...)
- Assisting the staff of the UB Economics office with administrative tasks.
- Provide support to the activities organized by UB Economics.

Skills required

- Intermediate/Advanced knowledge of English.
- Highly committed and willing to enrich his/hers knowledge. Pro-activity, accuracy and efficiency are highly valued.
- Other languages and previous experience in a similar job are considered a plus.

The schedule consists of 5 hours daily (timetable to be arranged). Our office is based in the city of Barcelona. This position will provide the student with the possibility of developing his/her professional skills within a successful project and a unique environment such as the city of Barcelona.

The internship is not paid. The economic support received by the student depends strictly on the amount provided by the Erasmus Placement Programme or his/hers own resources. All living arrangements and expenses must be taken care of by the student.

All interested candidates must send their CV's to ubeconomics@ub.edu. Candidates must also provide information regarding their availability to start the internship and how many months they want to participate in it.

More information about UB Economics project: www.ub.edu/ubeconomics