ADVANCED PUBLIC MANAGEMENT
Complete list of competences

Basic competences

BC6. Knowledge forming the basis of original thinking in the development and/or application of ideas, typically in a research context.

BC7. Capacity to apply the acquired knowledge to problem-solving in new or relatively unknown environments within broader (or multidisciplinary) contexts related to the field of applied materials chemistry.

BC8. Capacity to integrate knowledge and tackle the complexity of formulating judgments based on incomplete or limited information, taking due consideration of the social and ethical responsibilities involved in applying knowledge and making judgments.

BC9. Capacity to communicate conclusions, judgments and the grounds on which they have been reached to specialist and non-specialist audiences in a clear and unambiguous manner.

BC10. Skills to enable lifelong self-directed and independent learning.

General competences

GC0. Capacity for effective public speaking.
GC1. Capacity for public service and ethical commitment.
GC2. Ability to plan, organize and manage scarce resources.
GC3. Capacity for team leadership.

Specific competences

SC1. In-depth knowledge of and ability to apply the legal frameworks of different areas of legal and administrative management, and understanding of the current challenges facing public administration and the public sector in general.

SC2. Ability to obtain the financial resources that are available in order to best meet financing needs and satisfy established objectives.

SC3. Ability to identify human resources requirements in a public office or other organization and to apply the techniques and procedures for planning, selection and improvement of staff.

SC4. Ability to analyze, develop and interpret the cycle of formation, implementation and evaluation of public policies.

SC5. Ability to understand theories, apply methods and organize data in order to integrate knowledge for the purpose of carrying out individual or group research in any field of public administration.