The program “The demonyms in the DCVB, the ALPI and the ALDC” maps de words that identifies the inhabitants of the localities included in three dialect compendia: a) the Diccionari català-valencià-balear (DCVB), b) the Atlas Lingüístico de la Península Ibérica (ALPI) and c) the Atlas lingüístic del domini català (ALDC). Searches can be carried out on a work or on the three works at once. These two possibilities allow us to compare similarities and differences, where appropriate, between the results of the three materials.

The program gathers 1,093 demonyms, which respond to the following distribution: a) 802 belong to the Diccionari català-valencià-balear (DCVB), b) 111 belong to the Atlas Lingüístico de la Península Ibérica (ALPI) and c) 190 belong to the Atlas lingüístic del domini català (ALDC).

The demonyms include, in some cases, nicknames. According to the results, the demonyms of the ALPI and ALDC appear in phonetic transcription. Both the Atlas Lingüístico de la Península Ibérica (ALPI) and the Diccionari català-valencià-balear (DCVB) also have a section for observations.
