OFFICIAL WELCOME

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS OFFICE

FACULTY OF ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS

The International Relations Office would like to welcome you to the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Barcelona (UB). We are happy that you have chosen our institution to spend your academic exchange abroad!

In our Faculty you'll have the opportunity to relate with local students and to understand better the Catalan traditions and culture, but also to meet students from all over the world. Barcelona has always been an open, dynamic and cosmopolitan city. You'll be surprised by its rich and diverse cultural offer, its wide range of cultural activities, its architecture and its welcoming inhabitants.

Each year, our faculty receives about 500 international exchange students and in the IRO we try hard to ease your stay in our centre; our goal is that you successfully conclude your stay abroad and enjoy your international experience in Barcelona as much as you can.

Remember that we have specific mandatory procedures that all exchange students must ensure they complete - application, registration to courses, check in, etc.

All the information regarding the different procedures can be found at our website and/or is sent in due time to all accepted students!

We love to have you here and rest assured that our team at the IRO and the whole Faculty of Economics and Business are committed with the work we do and always try to be as helpful as possible!

Remember that in Catalonia we have our own language, which is Catalan. In the UB both Catalan and Spanish are official languages and everyone can communicate, write their tests or present their homework in both languages. The University offers Catalan and Spanish courses that may help you to follow the classes better from the beginning. Besides, the Faculty of Economics and Business has a wide English course offer, adding this third language to many of its courses.

Please carefully read this International Students' Guide that has plenty of useful information for your stay at our institution!

Remember that it is always better to do things in advance! Do not leave any step for the last minute and ask to the personnel in the ORI if you have any doubt.

WELCOME TO BARCELONA!

THE UNIVERSITY OF BARCELONA

HALLMARKS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF BARCELONA

The University of Barcelona is the main public university in Catalonia, catering to the needs of a great number of students and delivering the broadest and most comprehensive offer of higher education courses.

University of Barcelona is also the oldest university in Catalonia and one of the oldest in Spain. The UB is linked to the history of Barcelona and Catalonia and combines its historical dimension with its status as a leading, innovative educational institution.

The University of Barcelona is an urban university, open and cosmopolitan like it is Barcelona. The UB is integrated into the city of Barcelona, with faculties located in the centre of the city or very close to it. The UB plays a direct and active part in the urban fabric of Barcelona, the ties between the university and the city contribute to the human and cultural environment of Barcelona. The UB has become the centre of a wide range of cultural activities, and thanks to its location, it allows members of the university community to enjoy both the city's services and those of the UB.

Our history in a nutshell

UB roots lie in 1402, when King Martí the Humane establishes departments that will become the General Study of Medicine and the Arts. The foundation of the University of Barcelona is considered to be in 1450 when King Alphonse V unifies all university education into the Estudi General of Barcelona (General Study of Barcelona). These first studies included Theology, Cannons and Civil Law, Medicine, Philosophy and Arts. UB keeps growing but then, in 1717 the university was moved to Cervera, due to the support of a big part of Catalonia, including the city of Barcelona, to the Archduke Charles of Austria –who lose the war- during the Spanish succession war. The university came back to Barcelona 150 year later, in 1842.

FEATURED RANKINGS

The University of Barcelona is one of the top ranked universities in Spain and it is a leading higher education institution in southern Europe and the Mediterranean arch. The UB is situated within the first, the second or the third position among all the Spanish universities in almost all the most prestigious international rankings.

The UB is also the principal centre of university research at a state level and has become an European benchmark for research activity, both in terms of the number of research programs it conducts and in terms of the excellence these programs have achieved.

Its work contributes to the creation, transmission and diffusion of culture and of scientific, technical and professional knowledge, as well as promoting critical thought, innovation and pluralism. The UB offers a comprehensive range of courses adapted to the educational and professional needs of contemporary society, and has one of the largest intakes of students, professors and researchers from all Spanish universities.

THE FACULTY OF ECONOMICS AND BUSINESS

The Faculty of Economics and Business is the largest faculty in Catalonia and it is also included in the Barcelona Knowledge Campus, the most active 'Campus of Excellence' in Spain.

The Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Barcelona is a centre of excellence in teaching Economics, Business, Sociology and Statistics. This Faculty brings together the tradition of the old School of Business and Economics, which formed the first group of economists in Catalonia (1954-1959) and the old University School of Business studies that has trained generations of mercantile and business graduates since 1850.

The Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Barcelona is committed to excellence in research and teaching and is one of the world's leading faculties in its fields. Further information about the position of the Faculty areas in international rankings:

- <https://www.ub.edu/school-economics/ub-economics-in-rankings/>
- <https://www.ub.edu/business-school/es/rankings/>
- <https://www.ub.edu/school-sociology/about-us/rankings/>

All our Programmes and courses combine a solid grounding in business theory with a consistent commitment to practical application. Apart from teaching and researching, our academic staff actively participates in the administration and advisory board of both, private and public sector organisations. Our staff and research centres are often used by the media as a resource to comment on topical issues.

EXCHANGE INFORMATION

Application process

Students must complete the application process to be accepted as international exchange students at our Faculty. The most updated information about this process can be found at our website: Application process.

The information is also sent directly to all nominated students.

Please, bear in mind we receive almost all the applications around the deadlines. In these periods we may delay our answer more than usual due to the high numbers of applications we are receiving. Rest assured we process all the applications received and issue the corresponding acceptance letter if all the requirements are met.

If there is any problem with the documentation submitted in due time, we will contact you directly and nominated students will be given extra time to amend the documentation.

Preparing your stay

There are many things you must consider before moving to a new city, but we hope that this unique experience that you are about to start helps you to improve your organization abilities and constitutes a major step in your personal growth.

Once you receive your acceptance letter you can start to prepare your stay at our Faculty, city and country!

To that effect, we will send all accepted students a welcome email and other very important information, such as this guide, the academic calendar or the exchange related processes ahead. Make sure to read all the information carefully and follow all the necessary steps. All this information is sent in June and July.

Remember you must arrive at Barcelona for the check-in and the Welcome Session as marked on the academic calendar.

EXCHANGE INFORMATION

Arrival at Barcelona

Check in

Once you have completed the application process and have been accepted as a temporary student at the Faculty of Economics and Business at the University of Barcelona, you must formalize your arrival by completing the check-in process, on the dates indicated for this purpose and before the start of classes. To complete the check-in is essential in order to be able to take courses at the Faculty.

All updated information on the check-in is sent each year to accepted international exchange students. It is sent out approximately in July to first semester and annual students and in December to second semester students.

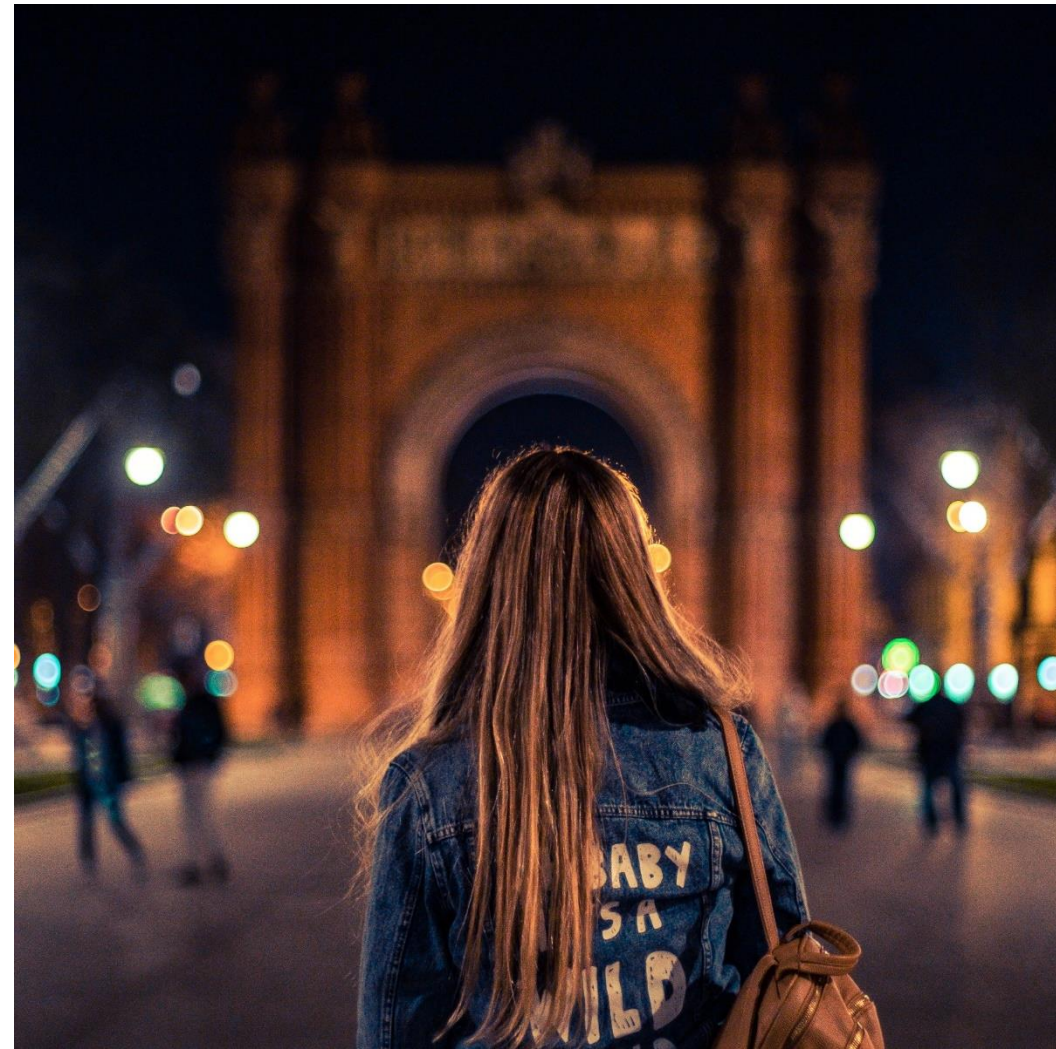

Once students arrive at our institution and complete the check-in, they will get their UB student's card that will give access to all services of the University of Barcelona. The International Relations Office will provide all students with a folder containing some material specially prepared for them, with information related to the university and the city.

IMPORTANT

Please note that the check in is a mandatory and essential step to be a student at our Faculty. Make sure to book your flight tickets taking into account that you must be in Barcelona for the check in and the welcome session!

Compulsory registration at the Central Registry Office for Foreigners

Consult the information on the registration of foreign students who are staying in our country. Depending on the duration of your stay and the regulations in force, you may also have to register at the Central Registry Office for Foreigners. You can find all the necessary information at the following link: Formalising your stay in our country.

Welcome Session

Before the beginning of the classes, the International Relations Office organizes a Welcome Session.

Assistance is mandatory, since we provide essential information for the success of your exchange in our centre.

Check the calendar we have already sent you –also included in this guide- and make sure that you know all important dates: registration period, welcome meeting, starting of classes, etc.

The day of the Welcome Session we will organize activities to promote the contact between incoming and regular students.

Courses and course registration

During the month of July all accepted students will receive an e-mail with precise instructions on how to enrol courses in the faculty. Students coming on exchange the Second Term will receive the email in December.

Courses in the Faculty of Economics and Business of the UB have limited space and some of them are very demanded, so it is utterly important that you are flexible with the course selection.

In the e-mail you will receive a link to the applicative on-line where you must enrol in the courses. Attached to the e-mail you will also receive the list of courses with the schedules, semester in which each course is programmed and timetables of the courses (with this information you must fix your own schedule). Places in the courses are limited and thus is important not to leave the on-line enrolment for the last minute.

You must be very careful regarding the schedule of all your courses (check that your courses do not clash) and regarding the language of teaching of the courses you choose. When choosing courses make sure that you have sufficient knowledge to follow the course, for example do not enrol in Microeconomics 3 without having any knowledge in Microeconomics. After the enrolment of courses we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do changes due to limited places of groups.

We strongly recommend all exchange students to do all possible changes on-line and while the applicative is active.

Finally, after the beginning of classes there will be a small period for changes in the enrolment. However, as already said, you must take into account the space in courses is very limited and therefore there will be very few course available.

The information above do not apply to students coming to a Master degree at the Faculty. Students accepted to do the exchange in a Master degree have to contact directly with the IRO Office.

INSURANCES AND ACCOMMODATION

Medical, Accidents and Repatriation Insurance

All international mobility students must have compulsory insurance (public or private) for medical assistance, accident and repatriation valid for the whole period of their stay in the host institution and country, either provided by their home university or because they are entitled to these coverages by other means.

All updated information on the compulsory insurances is sent to accepted international exchange students every year. It is sent out approximately in July to first semester and annual students and in December to second semester students.

Accommodation

The University of Barcelona cooperates with a net of organizations like “Col·legis Majors” (Halls of Residence) or BCU (Barcelona University Centre), which offers a great variety of accommodation especially oriented for students in a temporary study or research stay at our institution.

Check this link for more information about accommodation: <https://www.ub.edu/allotjament/en>

Spanish and Catalan courses

The University of Barcelona offers courses of Spanish and Catalan for those students willing to improve their language knowledge and follow easily the classes offered in our centre.

Catalan in the UB and Catalan courses

The University of Barcelona offers a wide range of Catalan courses to international students. Courses are organized during the whole duration of an academic course, in different dates and schedules in order to allow all students to enrich their knowledge of the Catalan language. Please consult the course offer in the following link:

<http://www.ub.edu/sl/en/fl/formling.htm>

The unit in charge of all the aspects related to Catalan courses is Language Services (Serveis Lingüístics). Besides the organization of Catalan courses, Language Services offers as well a wide range of other related services and activities, for instance and exchange language programme with local students and cultural visits to Barcelona and Catalonia. Students can find more about this complete and detailed offer by clicking “complementary activities” in the link above. In the following webpage you can find more resources to learn Catalan:

<http://www.ub.edu/sl/en/oferta/alumnat.htm>

From the International Relations Office, we want to encourage you to explore and experiment all the activities offered by Language Services!

The twofold mission of the UB’s Language Services is to promote the study of Catalan and to provide the university community’s academic, technical and administrative bodies with multilingual language advisory services, as well as contributing to the standardized use of the Catalan language.

The Catalan language in the University of Barcelona

Students coming on exchange at the University of Barcelona, or who have recently arrived from a non-Catalan-speaking area will doubtlessly want to know more about the language and culture they will find here.

In the following link you can find a general introduction to the use of languages at the UB: <http://www.ub.edu/sl/en/socio/dades/>

Students probably know that, the UB, like Catalonia as a whole, has two official languages: Catalan and Spanish. In general terms, this means that people speak both languages and choose the one in which they wish to express themselves. This matter makes it likely to hear both in and outside class.

Catalan is the institutional language of the University of Barcelona, and is therefore used in all the University's institutional and administrative affairs. Teaching is conducted in both Catalan and Spanish, which are Catalonia's official languages. But while it seeks to guarantee its students the standardised use of Catalan, the University's increasingly international involvement and its participation in interuniversity mobility programs have led it to adopt language policies that also foster the study and use of other languages, specially English, to consolidate the UB's presence as a multilingual institution.

Catalan, like Spanish, is a Roman language. Given the close proximity between languages in this group, students which have previously learned one are well equipped to take on another! The simultaneous learning tool Romanica Intercom (<http://www.romanicaintercom.com/>) gives a good illustration of the relative ease with which speakers of one Romance language can understand another.

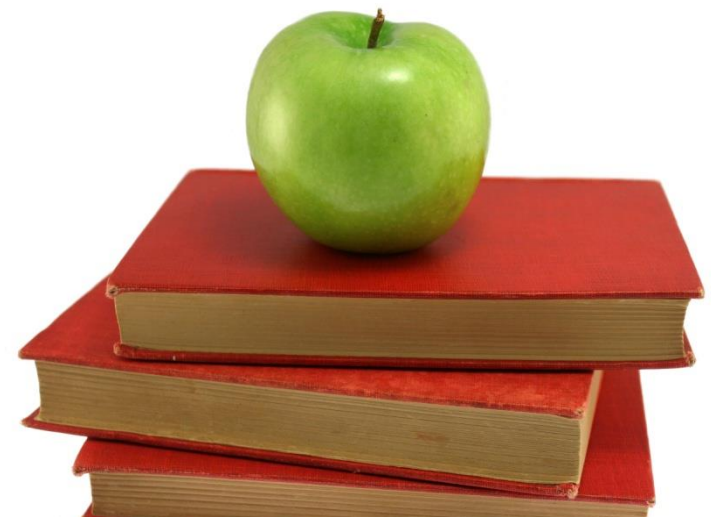

So, as Catalan belongs to the family of Romance languages, and the common ground between these languages makes it easier for visiting students and non-Catalan-speaking students who can speak a Romance language to begin to understand those classes taught in Catalan. In practice, it also helps that the kind of language being used in class is typically scientific or technical, rather than non-academic and informal.

Finally and apart from this, the UB's Language Services also offers visiting and non-Catalan-speaking students a wide range of opportunities to learn Catalan. We invite you to discover more about Catalan and about the services offered by Serveis Lingüístics, including the Catalan courses for beginners or the chance to sign up at the Services' Language Exchange Program and participate in different cultural events. Taking part in the Program is a particularly effective way to become involved in the University's academic, social and cultural life; and of course it also makes it easier for students to get to know other students!

To help students make the most of their time in Barcelona, we recommend them to try to learn at least a little Catalan. Students can start their learning process before their arrival in Barcelona! Serveis Lingüístics has updated a webpage (<http://www.ub.edu/sl/en/acollida/>) which provides information and links to a range of resources for learning the language outside Catalonia. Many universities offer introductory courses, and students can also learn on the Internet with the Speakc@t Catalan survival course for university students or the multimedia resources at Parla.cat (<http://www.parla.cat/>). Students which wish to learn phrases and expressions commonly used in university life, can consult the online versions of the UB's multilingual university phrase books.

Students will find these resources and many more by visiting this website:

(<http://www.ub.edu/sl/en/acollida/recursos.html>) which gathers all the activities and services that the Language Services offers!

Catalan Courses: Practical Information

The “Serveis Lingüístics” (Language Services) of the University of Barcelona organizes Catalan courses for exchange students. You can recognize 3 or 4 ECTS credits (depending on each course) if you follow and succeed in these courses. These courses are addressed to students with poor or any knowledge of Catalan; you can do the following levels: Basic 1, Basic 2 and Elementary.

The language certificates issued by the Language Services are also equivalent to the official certificates awarded by the Catalan Government.

To check more schedules and how to enrol one of this courses, please visit the following links:

<http://www.ub.edu/sl/en/fl/formling.html>

For any doubt you may have about this Catalan courses or in order to request further information about them, please contact to the following address:

SPANISH COURSES

Spanish courses are offered by the unit of “Estudios Hispánicos”. You can check all the information about Estudios Hispánicos in the following web-page (<http://www.eh.ub.edu/home/>).

The Estudios Hispánicos department organizes and teaches specific courses in Spanish language for students who belong to the Erasmus exchange programmes. These courses are organized three times a year. They amount to 40 hours and are organized in two levels of language knowledge: elementary (A2) and intermediate (B2), with a certificate of attendance and final evaluation included.

All courses consist of 40 hours of classes and worth 5 ECTS. Price of the courses may depend on the program in which the exchange student participates; Erasmus students will pay subsidized price, while students of all other exchange programs (Bilateral Agreements, etc.) must pay the standard price.

For general information about the Spanish Courses, please visit this link: <http://www.eh.ub.edu/general-information/>

There are different courses programmed so far; you can consult the wider offer in the Estudios Hispánicos webpage <http://www.eh.ub.edu/spanish-language-culture-courses/>

For specific requests or further details, please contact directly to:

Estudios Hispánicos Office Address

Universidad de Barcelona
Gran Via de les Corts Catalanes, 585
08007 BARCELONA (España)
e-mail: eh.informacion@ub.edu
web: <http://www.eh.ub.es>

In order to take part in these courses it is necessary:

- To be accepted at the UB as an Exchange Student
- Take the Placement Test on the day it is offered.
- Students that are not part of the Erasmus programme may need the provisional credential for exchange students; you can ask for it in the International Relations Office

STUDYING AT THE UNIVERSITY OF BARCELONA

How the University is organized?

The University of Barcelona is organized in 16 faculties and some affiliated centres. Each faculty offers different studies, thus the UB possess a wide offer of subjects and studies that fits the specific needs of each student.

International Exchange Students of the Faculty of Economics and Business can follow courses in other faculties of the University of Barcelona. Nevertheless, the student must do at our Faculty at least the 51% of the total number of credits enrolled. Students must also issue an authorization from the other faculty in which the course they want to follow is taught.

In order to enrol courses in other faculties you will have to contact the International Office of the faculty in which you are interested:

<http://www.ub.edu/uri/comu/professo.htm>

For Example:

Michael is an exchange student in the Faculty of Economics and Business. He wants to follow the subject “International Law” offered in the Faculty of Law of the University of Barcelona. He will be able to do so if he obtains the authorization from the International Relations Office of the Faculty of Law.

Workload

The Workload of each subject depends at a higher extent of each professor and of his/her vision about how the subject must be organized. Each professor has the right to implement his/her own evaluation method far as he/she follows the pre-established program of the subject. Given that the Faculty of Economics and Business gives a great importance to the practical application of the subjects it is quite probable that you will have to do some reports and practices related with the contents explained the master classes of the course. The majority of the professors offers the possibility of following a continuous evaluation and accumulate a percentage of the final grade during the semester. This way the students will have less workload during the finals period and increase the possibilities of obtaining a better grade.

Language of the courses

Subjects in the Faculty of Economics and Business are generally offered in Catalan and Spanish. Even though, there is an increasing offer of subjects offered in English. Each subject has more than one group. Students can choose the group that better fits their interests regarding the language in which it is taught, the professor, the schedule, etc.

The Language of each course depends only of the professor's preferences. But it is announced with enough anticipation in the webpage of the Faculty. When doing the online registration to courses make sure you have checked the language of instruction of the course and group you are choosing! Change in September will be very difficult, therefore, it is very important you make sure you are doing correctly your online enrolment.

Exams and punctuation system

Each semester has an exam period. You can check the dates in the academic calendar of this guide. It is very important to attend the exam of the course AND GROUP you are enrolled. In case of attending other group's exam, you will miss your mark.

Make sure you are attending the class of the group you are enrolled and you attend the correct group exam.

By the end of your stay you will receive an official certificate in which the grades obtained for the courses enrolled will be stated.

SPANISH GRADE		EXPLANATION	ECTS
9 – 10	Matricula d' Honor* (MH)	Excellent with Honours*	See the information below

5 – 5.99	Aprovat (AP)	Passed / Sufficient
0 – 4.99	Suspens (SS)	Fail / Insufficient
NP	No presentat	Absent
PQ	Pendent de Qualificar	Grade Pending

* Distinction given by the professor to one student out of 25 for his/her outstanding performance.

ECTS GRADE SYSTEM:

The Universitat de Barcelona's ECTS grading scale describes individual student performance in relation to the cohort as a whole, using the results of the two previous academic years.

In this scale, the students who pass a subject are divided in five groups:

- The top 10% are awarded the grade A;
- The following 25%, the grade B;
- The following 30%, the grade C;
- The following 25%, the grade D;
- The lowest 10%, the grade E.

When student's grade cannot be quantified, this is indicated by the abbreviation "NQ".

After the end of the exchange, the International Relations Office will send to each partner university the official transcripts of their students. We send two copies of each certificate, so you can pick up yours at the international office of your school. Individual applicant (Free-mover), will receive two copies in the address stated in their application form and they will have to handle the certificate to their universities.

SERVICES AND FACILITIES

Restaurant Service- Bar

Students and professors have at their disposition two Restaurant-Bars, one in each of the Faculties' buildings. These are open until the 20.00hrs every day. In the midday a daily menu is offered at affordable prices.

Computer rooms

There are 13 computer rooms in the Faculty in which any student can work or surf on the internet. Access to such rooms may be subject to availability. There is also an available WI-FI network in all the Faculty premises.

Study Rooms

The Faculty also offers some study rooms that can be reserved to realize team-projects or to study in group. To reserve the rooms you can do here:

<https://www.ub.edu/portal/web/economia-empresa/reserva-de-sales-de-treball>

Other Language courses

Besides of the Catalan and Spanish courses as an exchange student you can also follow other language courses (French, English, Portuguese, Chinese, Dutch, German, Hebrew, Greek, and Japanese, among many other). These courses are offered by the "Escola d'Idiomes Moderns" (Modern Languages School), you can find more information in their web page: www.eim.ub.edu

BUDDY PROGRAMME

The Buddy Programme was founded on the initiative of the International Relations Office of the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Barcelona in order to promote international relations and encourage the contact between the students of the Faculty and the international ones who are completing an exchange period at our institution.

Students, both local and international ones, will benefit from the opportunity to enrich their university experience, as well as have the chance to meet students who belong to different cultural environments. Interaction between both groups of students will help them achieve a better understanding of other cultures, thus improving their international experience and gaining personal intercultural knowledge.

If you are a student who will undertake an international academic stay at our institution, you will be able to contact several students of the Faculty who have decided to be the “buddies”. There is also a Facebook fan page where you can express your doubts, and the “buddies” will help you on them.

Local buddies can guide and advise you on academic and university related issues during their stay at our faculty (using the library resources, contacting the lecturers of the Faculty, giving help and advice on courses, etc.) and other cultural and daily life issues related to your new city and country (for instance, cultural and linguistic immersion).

Buddies will also be present during the welcoming activities, so you will be able to meet them and start interacting with them from the very beginning.

We hope that thanks to this programme you will be able to learn and interact with the local students of our university and make the most of this international experience that you have decided to incorporate into your personal background.

TESTIMONIALS

Mariëlle, Maastricht University, the Netherlands

"My Erasmus experience in Barcelona was unforgettable! Barcelona is a beautiful city and at every moment of the day there is something you can do: go to the beach, go out, eat some tapas, relax in the sun or go shopping. The challenge of Barcelona is to combine all of this with studying! I think studying at Universidad de Barcelona was a good decision. The teachers are nice to Erasmus students and also the International Relations Office helped a lot to get to know how the system works! I hope you will enjoy Barcelona to the fullest, just like I did!"

Anna, University of the West of England Bristol, Great Britain

"I would like to say that I have had an amazing Erasmus year in Barcelona. I would recommend it to anyone to come to Barcelona and study here! It is a great city to live and study in, and I am even looking into possibly returning to do a Masters here."

Sergi, London Metropolitan University, Great Britain

"Mi estancia en Barcelona ha sido muy agradable. El buen tiempo, las fiestas, y el ambiente general han hecho que me vaya de Barcelona con muy buen recuerdo. La Universidad de Barcelona ha sido sorprendentemente diferente a mi universidad de origen. Es muy importante crear alguna amistad en cada clase que pueda aclararte algunos temas académicos. Es esencial asistir a las primeras clases de cada asignatura ya que en éstas normalmente se crean grupos para trabajar. Esto es más importante aún para un alumno Erasmus debido a que probablemente no conocerá a nadie en su clase y si no asiste las primeras clases probablemente acabara en un grupo con otros alumnos igual de confundidos que él."

INTERNSHIPS IN BARCELONA

Incoming students can also develop valuable practical skills by undertaking internships in one of our wide range of leading organizations and industry sectors during their exchange period.

The extension of the internship cannot be longer than the Exchange Period.

Curricular Internships

An internship is “curricular” when it implies the recognition of ECTS’s. Once the student has found a firm that wants to hire him/her and has realized all related paperwork to start the internship, he or she can receive some ECTS’s for the internship. The Faculty offers the possibility of enrol in a course called “Prácticas empresariales” through which students may obtain those ECTS’s. The recognition of those ECTS’s once the student is back in his/her country depends only of the home university.

Non curricular internships

If the student opts for this sort of internships, there is no option to receive ECTS’s for this activity in the selected firm, even though this can be also an interesting activity to improve the CV of the student.

Proceedings

To be able to realize the internships you must register in the database of the Internship Office of the Faculty. Registration is online, but you can ask information face-to-face. The internship office is just in front of the international Relations Office. Once you are registered you can submit in all the internship offers you are interested in. The faculty has a wide offer practices in the most relevant firms and official institutions.

You must have in mind that you can only subscribe once you have arrived to Barcelona and done the enrolment of courses.

Once you have submit for an offer are the firms the once that decide if they want to hire you. Regularly companies realize interviews to those candidates that have submitted and that fit the best in the offer. If you pass the selection process, you will have to sign an internship agreement between the student, the firm and the faculty. If the internships are curricular, the student must handle a photocopy of the signed agreement by all parts to be able to enrol the course “Prácticas empresariales”. The enrolment of this subject is done once the student has signed the agreement. The International Relations Office will enrol you in this course just after the agreement is signed and presented at our office.

Notice for non-EU Students

Students coming from non EU countries must consider that tax retentions may be greater than for EU students.

Additional Information

The Faculty also offer a possibility to participate in other activities, like the courses “Salidas Profesionales”, The Enterprises Forum organized in March – April, or visits to the Barcelona Stock-Exchange and other relevant firms or institutions.

TRAVELLING TO BARCELONA

Depending on the country or the continent you travel from, you can get to Barcelona using:

- Airport of Barcelona “El Prat”
- Airport of “Girona” (The Girona airport is located about 12 km from the centre of Girona and approximately 100 km from Barcelona)
- El AVE (High speed trains)
- Buses - Estación del Norte

Airports

The Barcelona Airport, located in el Prat del Llobregat, is the biggest and the most important airport of Catalunya located 30 minutes by car or taxi from the city centre.

The airport offers a wide choice of international flights. In order to travel from the airport to the centre of Barcelona you have different options:

1. Taxi: The price varies from 40 to 60 euros, depending on the distance.
2. Aerobus (Shuttle): There is a bus service that enables you to travel fast to the centre of Barcelona. The buses leave every 5 minutes, everyday in a year. You can find information about prices in the following link: <https://aerobusbarcelona.es/>

3. Train: There is also a possibility to get to the city centre by train, Renfe which passes through the airport T2. Find more information in the following link: https://www.aeropuertobarcelona-elprat.com/ingl/accesos_aeropuerto_tren4010.htm
4. Metro: The line L9 South (orange) connects the airport with Barcelona city in 25/30 min. The train leaves each 7 min. Fares for one way to reach Barcelona airport T1 or T2 can be found in the following link: <https://www.tmb.cat/en/barcelona-fares-metro-bus/single-and-integrated/aeroporto-ticket>

Trains

Another way by which you can get to Barcelona is by train. The high speed trains (AVE) connect Barcelona with different cities of Spain. If you land in a different city, you should be able to get a direct connection till Barcelona.

Once you are in Barcelona you can move around easily by any public transport services available. To travel around Barcelona is one of the easiest things to do. The transport is designed to the necessities of the public, inhabitants and tourists, offering the connection of the whole area and its surroundings. Tourist buses, more than 10 lines of metro and tram, more than 80 bus lines and local trains make up the urban area transport map of Barcelona. The connection between all the lines is well explained using the signs at all the stations.

Finally, you can come by bus to Barcelona. The main bus station of long-distance buses is “Estació del Nord” (the North Station). It is located near the Barcelona center.

USEFUL INFORMATION FOR YOUR STAY HERE

Monthly budget

Below you will be able to find a monthly budget. We have prepared an upper and lower cost limit, however, they are both approximate and depending on your necessities and preferences both limits can vary. In the budget we have included solely the most usual expenses. Barcelona is a city full of activities, cultural events and diverse services which we did not bear in mind while elaborating this approximation.

Category	Lower	Upper
Rent (Room)	400€	850€
Housing expenses (Light, water, other)	50€	100€
Public transport *	30€	50€
Food	150€	250€
Total	630€	1250€

*We considered public transport only. To have a better idea about the transport here you can visit the website of TMB where you will find current rates: <http://www.tmb.cat/es/bitllets-i-tarifes>

Weather conditions

In general: considering the latitude where Barcelona and Catalonia are located, the climate is quite moderate during the whole year with hot summers. In the winter months, however, it is cold and thermometer can show between 0-5 degrees. Even though we understand, depending on the country where you come from, this temperature can seem pleasant, we recommend bringing warm clothes.

Nevertheless, the most common winter temperature is usually around 10 degrees. The enormous diversity of Catalan territory (which spreads from the sea to the high mountains), convert it to an exceptional mosaic of complex climates, meteorologically speaking. In the Pyrenees there are different ski slopes open from November till March and the Mediterranean coast invites you to you have a bath in the hottest months.

In particular: The climate in Barcelona is Mediterranean. The rainiest seasons are spring and autumn. The summer is hot and the winter moderately cold. Thus you will need to bring various clothing in your suitcase.

GOING OUT IN BARCELONA

Gastronomy

The gastronomy of Barcelona goes beyond the famous Mediterranean diet, which is essential to understand the quality of life of the region and the general welfare: the prestige of the Catalan cuisine is nowadays internationally recognized; however, in addition, you'll also find a variate gastronomic offer with restaurants and products from around the world

With this kind of gastronomic heritage, it is easy to see why the city has more than 16 Michelin stars and why Catalonia is the home of three-star restaurants. Barcelona offers a wide range of places for eating out, suitable for all pockets and tastes. There are many restaurants that offer menus at affordable prices or bars that organize special events for students. The average price of a menu may vary between 7 and 15 euros depending on the area and the time of day. In the area of Faculty there is also a wide range of places to eat at affordable prices.

Where to go out?

Barcelona is a city which never sleeps nor rests and you will always find interesting activities to do here. The city has a wide variety of places to go and have a drink with friends or to dance. The Olympic Village, Poblenou or the city centre are known for going out at night where many young people are during the weekends. Barcelona is also the center of many events, exhibitions and concerts which take place every week.

For more information about all the cultural events we recommend "La Butxaca". It is a free magazine that collects monthly almost all cultural events of the city. You will find events to suit all budgets and tastes. See more information here: <https://www.timeout.com/barcelona>

Music and theatre

Barcelona has always been a meeting point of cultures, and this can be noted in the musical style originating from the city: the rumba catalana, a music that was born in the street, a fusion of Cuban music and gypsy music, according to one of its major representatives, the great Gato Perez.

Barcelona keeps the great tradition of the Sardana. Everyone is welcome to see or participate in the sardana dance that is organized each weekend by local associations and traditional groups. However, being a large city, you can find in Barcelona also large concert halls like the Liceu Opera House, home to some of the best opera houses in the world, the beautiful Palau de la Música Catalana, declared world heritage by the UNESCO for its impressive architecture, and the Palau Sant Jordi Stadium, the popular place often chosen for their concerts by the majority of singers of pop and rock stars who visit our city. Few cities in the world can boast of being a must stop during tours of the big international stars such as Madonna, Bruce Springsteen and the Rolling Stones.

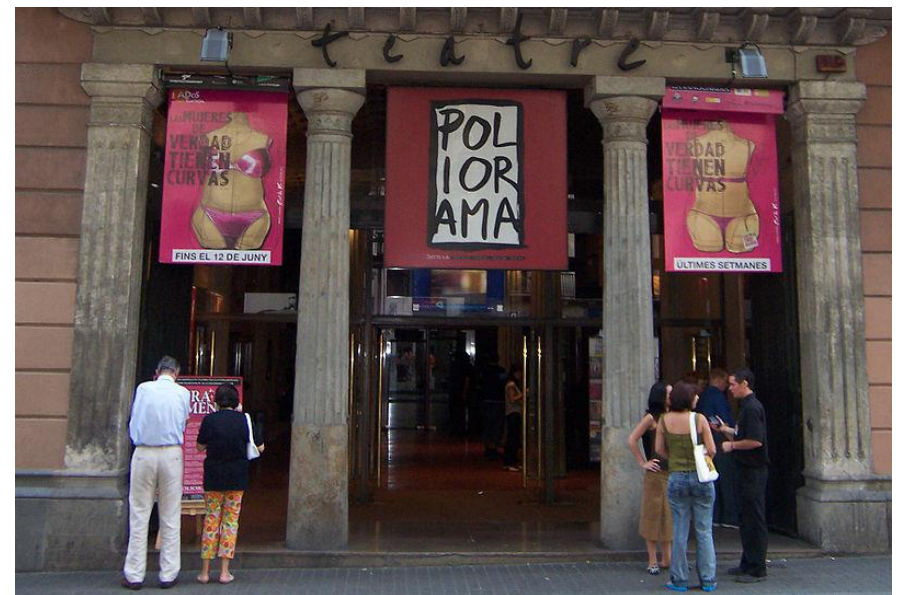

For the jazz and blues lovers, in Barcelona there is a wide range of smaller music places, which host more alternative groups and jam sessions.

Barcelona also hosts large musical festivals. In September, you'll find the BAM (Barcelona Acció Musical), a great festival of music open to all styles from folk to electronic, hip hop, rumba and rock.

In May there is the Barcelona Primavera Sound festival, with a musical program of great international prestige which brings together thousands of people in the city.

In June the Sonar also accounts for a large number of attendees to enjoy the advanced music and multimedia presentations with DJs and groups like Jeff Mills, Miss Kittin, Goldfrapp, Mandes and the Pinkertones, just to name a few. Summercase, the Young festival with 2 programs in the two biggest cities of Spain, Madrid and Barcelona, has become the main event of the month of July.

As you will see, Barcelona, offers you a wide and various cultural offer. From the classic one to the most alternative ones where there is place for all the tastes.

Shopping

In Barcelona you will find a wide range of products and services. The streets of the Gothic Quarter are perfect if you are looking for old clothes or parts of creative young local designers or you can visit the streets of Passeig de Gràcia and Diagonal Avenue with shops with higher prices. The historic neighbourhoods of Gràcia, Sants and the Born quarter are also centers of fashion thanks to the small designers and accessories shops that fill its streets and colour.

Loyal to her spirit, the Catalan capital maintains many neighbourhood markets like the Boqueria market, the Santa Caterina Market (recently restored) and the historical market of Sant Antoni, currently under partial restoration, there you can find old books, CDs, cloths food and much more. These places offer an endless set of possibilities in gastronomic products.

Museums

Like any other city renowned as a cultural centre, Barcelona is also home to an extensive network of museums and cultural foundations that expose and explore all areas of history, art, and human life. We recommend the modern art in the MACBA, MNAC, which has broad and relevant Romanesque art exhibition or the Museum of the history of Catalonia, to get to know the place which will be your new home for a few months.

Barcelona is also home to many exhibitions throughout the course of the year, so interested students have to check if they are open to the public at all times. Also, there are internationally recognized some museums that exhibit important collections of leading artists, as the Foundation Joan Miró, Fundació Antoni Tàpies or the Picasso Museum in Barcelona which is considered the center of reference for the formative years of Pablo Ruiz Picasso.

Finally, there are also thematic museums as CosmoCaixa, the textile Museum, the Chocolate Museum, and one of the most visited museums in the city, the Museum of FC Barcelona.

Water and Electricity

The voltage in Spain is 220. The electric socket is the European standard. The running water is drinkable and the Town hall certifies the quality.

Currency

The Euro is the official currency in Spain, and in almost no shops any other currencies are accepted for payment. You can easily change the usual currency (US dollars, pounds sterling, Japanese yen and other) in all bank offices and in the exchanges that are found in the downtown areas and tourist sites.

TRAVEL AROUND IN BARCELONA AND CATALONIA

The TMB (Transports Metropolitans de Barcelona) is the public company that is responsible for managing the major means of public transport for travelling within or outside of the city of Barcelona. The metropolitan transport of Barcelona has six zones and the price of a ticket depends on the area you want to reach. To circulate within the city you only need the ticket for the first zone, but if you want to visit the areas around the city, it is recommended to check tickets, prices and timetables.

A single ticket can be bought in the machines that you will find in all the metro and tram stations or the bus itself. Search the different ticket options to know which you are most interested in. In addition to the simple ticket there is simple, for example, T-Casual ticket which is an individual travel card valid for 10 intermodal (train, metro, tram and buses) journeys from 1 to 6 zones. In the case of one-zone cards, passengers have 75 minutes between the first and last validation when changing lines or mode of transport. This time increases by 15 minutes for each zone. Not valid for Aeroport T1 and Aeroport T2 metro stations on line L9 Sud. Students under 25 can also purchase the special discount ticket, T- Jove. You will find more information about tickets and fare here: <https://www.tmb.cat/en/barcelona-fares-metro-bus>.

The official website of the TMB (Metropolitan Transport of Barcelona) has a routes searcher that gives you the easiest, faster and more comfortable way to get from a place to another, besides of all routes and maps.

Travel by Subway (Metro)

The metro is one of the fastest transports to discover and move around the city. With a broad and highly developed structure, you can move to any point of Barcelona and the surrounding cities by these means of transport.

Barcelona Metro Schedule:

<https://www.tmb.cat/en/barcelona/operating-hours-metro-bus>

You can buy tickets in the regular ATMs at each station.

Travelling by bus

Barcelona has more than 80 bus lines that connect the city and the metropolitan area. The night buses are also available with the same ticket. The bus network involves also the Aerobus, which connects the city centre with the airport of el Prat. Furthermore, there are buses for long-distance trips that allow you to reach different parts of Catalonia, Spain and Europe.

Buses are adjusted for people with disabilities. The night buses cost the same as daytime buses. Find more about the bus lines here: www.tmb.cat

Travelling by tram

Barcelona has 6 tram lines that complement the city's public transport. The price of a tram ticket is the same as the ticket of integrated TMB and can be purchased through the atms at tram stations with credit card. More information can be found in the official website of the Barcelona Tram System: www.tram.cat

Travelling by train

Catalonia has many beaches and cities that receive a large number of tourists every year. If you want to visit the Costa Brava, the Suburban Trains (www.renfe.com) together with the Ferrocarrils de la Generalitat (www.fgc.cat) are the two rail networks that let you travel through the different areas which include Barcelona and a much larger territory of Catalonia. Railways are managed by Generalitat de Catalunya, while the Suburban trains are managed by Renfe, the main Spanish railway company which provides transport throughout the country.

The Suburban trains of Renfe are the best option if you want to visit the coastal towns, rural areas and major cities such as Tarragona or Girona. The price of a ticket depends on the distance in order to reach their final destination. Renfe offers an online service that calculates the price of the ticket. Find out more about the services of Renfe here: www.renfe.com
