1st Term (Fall): from September to January | 2nd term (Spring): from February to June

ACADEMIC INFORMATION: The most up-to-date course catalogue and academic calendar can be found on: Course catalogue & Academic calendar.

We do not expect any major change in the course offer, however the 2023-24 course catalogue -with the course schedules for next academic year- will not be available until June 2023.

IMPORTANT: Exchange students have access to all the bachelor course offer of the Faculty, as specified on the course catalogue (except specific master agreements); however, courses have limited space and it is important students coming on exchange at our institution can be flexible regarding the courses they intend to do during their exchange, as we cannot guarantee the enrolment to specific courses. In this sense, we strongly suggest your students complete all compulsory modules required for graduation at home. Exchange students can also enroll courses from other Faculties of the UB, up to the 49% of the total number of ECTS: UB course offer.

TUITION LANGUAGES:

- Wide academic offer in Catalan & Spanish for Business, Economics, Sociology and Statistics.
- Wide academic offer in English for Business and Economics, but not for Sociology and Statistics.

For Sociology or Statistics students with no Spanish knowledge, the choice of courses in English in these degrees is limited. However, some of the courses belonging to the areas of Business or Economics may be relevant for them. In any case, for Sociology or Statistics exchanges, we strongly recommend either selecting students with Spanish knowledge or, in the case of students with no knowledge of Spanish, having potential applicants check the course offer carefully to make sure they can find suitable courses in English according to their interests/needs, before making any selection | The course offer in English in other Faculties may be limited.
